Early Spring
2023

Note from the President:

Hope you all have had a nice new year. There have been several days of unusual rain. One weekend we had over 4 inches according to our backyard rain gauge. In years past that has been enough for an entire season. Unfortunately, we had to cancel the September 2022 contest due to rain, thunder, lightening and even smoke from a nearby fire. But, Scale Staffel is hopeful for better weather this spring.

We have a contest scheduled for April 22-23, 2023. This will be our first contest since May 2022. I hope you all can attend and enjoy the flying and comradery.

Cheers,

John Hutchison
